

Style tile

Inspiration from the style:
TADO - Japanese character design

Contour line:
Contour line is kind of strong. Usually it optically divide the characters and background.

Typography:
Bold and fat letters, usually rounded a little bit. A lot of colors. Displayed or sans serif fonts.

SUSHI TIME

Colours:
Saturated and contrasted colors. Light tones in contrast with black. A big variety of all colors.

Specific characteristics in the style:

Characters have usually big and rounded head and the difference between the size of the head and body is quite visible from the first glance. Eyes are usually really big and wide and they are quite detailed or it can be also just pupils. Especially because of this they are really cute most of the time. Strong variety of colors, and characters. They can appear as animals, people or something in between. Variety of expressions, so we can see in which role is the character.

Description of the idea

The story: SUSHI TIME

The main guy Warui (Japanese name for “badass”).

We don't know his background, all we know is that, he is kind of mysterious guy with a lot of secrets.

Liling (Japanese name for white “jasmine”) is the sweet innocent and sensitive girl. Everybody adores her in the town.

Hundan (Japanese name for “asshole”) is the notorious chef who is tired of his work and that is the reason why he is always angry and could be very dangerous.

The story is set up into the Japanese restaurant Sun Sun in the small town. Our hero is going nuts for the cute Liling and he is taking her to the restaurant without knowing what she likes.

The user has to interact and guess which meal the Liling likes. When she likes it, you will see how she fell in love with our main guy. If the user will not choose the right one, you will be able to see what can happen if the girls didn't get what they want.

Message:

If you really care about your love ones, you should know what they like.

In another point of view, you can see the reaction of girls what happens if they didn't get what they want.

Genre/mood:

Humorous, romance, cute